The image features two sculptures of deer, one in the foreground and one in the background, both constructed from rusted metal skeletons. They are set against a backdrop of a dense forest with tall, thin trees and a grassy clearing. The lighting is soft, suggesting a late afternoon or early morning setting.

Please join the Newport News Public Art Foundation at the unveiling of the city's newest public art, Whitetail Crossing, by Wendy Klemperer.

Abundant now, deer were severely threatened in the early 20th century. Deer Park was established as a preserve, and these sculptures are a permanent reminder of the creatures that once roamed this woodland setting.

These expressive sculptures, made from salvaged industrial materials, will be revealed Saturday, December 19, 2015 at 11am at the entrance to Deer Park on Jefferson Avenue.

One of the best ways to enjoy art is to listen to the artist talk about a work, why and how it was created, what the artist was thinking and trying to accomplish. For the works in our collection a personal tour with the artist is only a download away.
