

Dedication and Groundbreaking Ceremonies

Wednesday, January 30, 2019 – 4:00 p.m.

Dedication Ceremony For the Kabwe Family

2003 Marshall Avenue
Newport News, Virginia

In Memory of
Everett Jordan &
Ron Nelson

Please join us as we dedicate the 16th home sponsored by Newport News Shipbuilding, in memory of Ron Nelson (longtime Habitat construction supervisor) and in memory of Everett Jordan (longtime Newport News Shipbuilding employee). These visionary men met at the start of the Shipyard-Habitat partnership over 15 years ago and, as a result, a friendship was born. Ron worked tirelessly with Habitat since 1999, building a majority of the homes we sell in partnership with low- and moderate-income families. Everett spent 44 years with the shipyard in a variety of jobs, ultimately retiring as the director of The Apprentice School.

This house is special because it will celebrate the lives of both Ron and Everett, two very special people.

Ribbon Cutting

Jeremy Jordan: Your home is special because of the hundreds of volunteers who put themselves into building it. Do you recognize the hours of effort and example of generosity they have given?

Kabwe Family: We do.

Jeremy Jordan: Will you care for your home inside and out?

Kabwe Family: We will.

Jeremy Jordan: Will you do all you can to make your home a beacon of peace to all who pass by and who enter in?

Kabwe Family: We will.

Jeremy Jordan: Will you pay your mortgage to Habitat on time, so they can use those funds to build future homes for families like yours?

Kabwe Family: We will.

Jeremy Jordan: It is my privilege to present this Bible to you. May you find it a practical guide that blesses and inspires your life.

It is my privilege to present you with this symbolic key. May it stand for safety and security in your home.

Everyone: Welcome home!

Habitat for Humanity Peninsula and Greater Williamsburg is a nonprofit homebuilding organization that helps families in need build and purchase safe, decent and affordable housing in Hampton, James City County, Newport News, Williamsburg and York County, Virginia. New homes are built by the generosity of building partners, individual donations and volunteer labor. Homes are sold to the qualified families at no profit, and Habitat carries the zero-interest mortgage for 20-30 years. Monthly mortgage payments are recycled to build more homes.
